Nursing Competency

August 17, 2023

Medically complex patients and caregivers managing multiple chronic conditions at home face increased readmission risk. An effective care plan reduces readmissions, enhances outcomes and patient experience.

Effective care transition involves medication reconciliation and management, collaborative follow-up, medical device use, and patient education for improved outcomes.

At Allium Care Suites, our team of nurses, medical director and allied health professionals provides a comprehensive and coordinated approach for elders with multiple conditions. Our patient-centric approach addresses medical, emotional, and quality of life needs.

Specialised training, including caring for elders with compromised respiratory function requiring non-invasive airway management support such as BiPAP and Cough Assist, combined with updated training in Wound Hygiene, reinforces our nursing team's niche care expertise in post-hospitalisation, respite and long-term stay.
